Panel 8 - Information Technologies, Consumer Behavior, and Non-Energy Benefits

Foreword	8.iii
Acknowledgments	8.v
Introduction	8.xi
The Use of Data Envelopment Analysis for Evaluating Building Energy Consumption Competitive Utility Environment	8.1
David Carnes, Friberg Associates, Inc.
Bruce D. Hunn, ASHRAE
Jerold W. Jones, The University of Texas at Austin
Energy Services in the Information Age: The Convergence of Energy, Communications, and Information Technologies	8.13
Paul A. Centolella, Science Applications International Corp.
Electricity Savings "Soon Come" to Jamaica — Assessing the Potential for Air Conditioning and Refrigeration End-Use DSM	8.25
Thomas Conlon, RLW Analytics, Inc.
Ed Hamzawi, RLW Analytics, Inc.
Volton Campbell, Jamaica Public Service Company
Communicating with Whom? The Effectiveness of Appliance Energy Labels in the U.S. and Thailand	8.39
Peter duPont, International Institute for Energy Conservation
Understanding Residential Grid-Tied PV Customers and Their Willingness to Pay Today's Costs: A Qualitative Assessment	8.55
Barbara C. Farhar, National Renewable Energy Laboratory
Marc Roper, Colorado Governor's Office of Energy Conservation
Predicting the Frequency of Hot and Cold Complaints in Buildings	8.69
Clifford C. Federspiel, Johnson Controls, Inc.
Potential Nationwide Improvements in Productivity and Health From Better Indoor Environments	8.85
William J. Fisk, Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory
Arthur H. Rosenfeld, U.S. Department of Energy
Energy Savings in Relation to Indoor Environmental Quality	8.99
John D. Hall, ICF Consulting Group
David H. Mudarri, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
Eric Werling, ICF Consulting Group

Potential Productivity Benefits from High Quality Lighting in Federal Buildings 8.111
Louis R. Harris, U.S. Department of Energy
Lisa Heschong, Heschong Mahone Group
Judith H. Heerwagen, Pacific Northwest National Laboratory
Carol C. Jones, Pacific Northwest National Laboratory

Energy Effectiveness and the Ecology of Work: Links to Productivity and Well-Being 8.123
Judith Heerwagen, Pacific Northwest National Laboratory
Jeffrey A. Johnson, Pacific Northwest National Laboratory
Peter Brothers, University of Aukland
Richard Little, National Research Council
Arthur H. Rosenfeld, U.S. Department of Energy

Marketability Requirements for Fault Detection and Diagnostics in Commercial Buildings 8.133
Kristin H. Heinemeier, Honeywell Technology Center

Dual System (Energy Management/Electrical Submetering) Retrofit 8.147
Herbert E. Hirschfeld
Joseph S. Lopes, Applied Energy Group, Inc.

Performance Metrics and Life-Cycle Information Management for Building Performance Assurance 8.165
Robert J. Hitchcock, Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory
Mary Ann Piette, Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory
Stephen E. Selkowitz, Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory

Comparison Groups as a Tool for Evaluating Energy Efficiency Programs: An Analysis of Energy Star® Billing Comparison Groups 8.179
Maithili Iyer, University of Delaware
Willett Kempton, University of Delaware
Christopher Payne, University of Delaware

Building Change: Characteristics of Design Firms and Their Effect on Energy Efficiency Adoption 8.193
Kathryn Janda, Energy and Resources Group, University of California, Berkeley

Communication Technologies for Energy Management and Energy Services 8.203
Michael Kintner-Meyer, Pacific Northwest National Laboratory

1997 RECS Data on Consumer Usage of Appliances 8.217
Robert B. Latta, Energy Information Administration

Enhanced Applications for Energy Management Control Systems 8.229
Roger Mosier, Portland Energy Conservation, Inc.
Karl Stum, Portland Energy Conservation, Inc.

Organizational Dynamics and Energy Policy 8.239
Christopher Payne, Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory

Changing Consumer Attitudes to Energy Efficiency: Midterm Results from an Advertising Campaign 8.251
Jane S. Peters, Research Into Action, Inc.
Ken Seiden, Essential Economics, Inc.
Sharon Baggett
Lyn Morander, Wisconsin Electric Company

Development and Testing of an Information Monitoring and Diagnostic System for Large Commercial Buildings 8.263
Mary Ann Piette, Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory
Lisa Gartland, Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory
Satkartar Khalsa, Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory
Peter Rumsey, Supersymmetry
Lee Eng Lock, Supersymmetry
Anthony Sebald, University of California, San Diego
Christine Shockman, Stanford University

Consumer Attitudes Towards Electricity Conservation in Brazil 8.279
Geraldo Pimentel, PROCEL/Eletróbrás
Cláudio Zaltzman, PROCEL/Eletróbrás
Paulo A. Leonelli, PROCEL/Eletróbrás
Carlos A. Principe, PROCEL/Eletróbrás
Howard Geller, American Council for an Energy-Efficient Economy
Reinaldo Castro Souza, PUC-Rio

Promoting and Quantifying Non-Energy Benefits — A Method to Achieve Energy Efficiency in Sweden 8.289
Tea Alopaeus Sandberg, EM, The Swedish National Energy Administration

Extra! Extra! Non-Energy Benefits Swamp Load Impacts for PG&E Program! 8.301
Lisa A. Skumatz, Skumatz Economic Research Associates, Inc.
Chris Ann Dickerson, Pacific Gas and Electric Company

Advertising, Marketing, and Purchase Behavior for Energy-Related Products 8.313
Ken Tiedemann, BC Hydro
Dennis Nelson, BC Hydro

Understanding Energy Consumption: Beyond Technology and Economics 8.321
Harold Wilhite, Ressurskonsult and University of Oslo, Norway
Elizabeth Shove, Lancaster University, Great Britian
